

AUTISM

Understanding Behaviour

If you attended our recent workshop or feel you have a good understanding of the traits of autism please come and join us - topics to be covered:

'All behaviour is communication'. Given that communication is significantly impaired in autism, how can we understand and support behaviour?

- * identify the purpose of the behaviour
- * understand what might be reinforcing it
- * identify replacement behaviour to be taught
- * reinforce and strengthen desired behaviour.

WHERE: Beaconsfield Child and Family Centre, 33 Grubb St Beaconsfield Phone: 6383 1742

WHEN: Friday 24 November 2017 10am to 2pm, free child care available by booking when you RSVP

Confirmation of attendance and child care booking no later than Monday 20 November - call 6383 1742 or email

heather.green@education.tas.gov.au

This workshop is FREE but numbers are limited so please book

Our presenter is:

Mary Brake

Autism Consultant

Learning Services North

Department of Education

This workshop is for parents, educators and interested community members